

SACRED GEOGRAPHY:
FROM THE HEART OF THE ANDES TO THE HEART OF THE SOUTHEAST
Pilgrimage and Teachings with Q'ero Maestro, Don Mariano Quispe

July 25 to August 3, 2009

Atlanta and North Carolina

Share in a flowering of ancient vision in our modern world, as you become part of the journey of don Mariano Quispe, beloved Q'ero elder, healer and ceremonialist, as he travels here from the high mountains of Peru for the first time this summer to offer a pilgrimage to nourish the sacred places of North America.

Don Mariano Quispe, esteemed ceremonialist, healer, and Kurak Akulleq of the Q'ero nation of the Andes will offer ceremony, healings and teachings in Atlanta, Georgia on July 26 and at Mount Mitchell in North Carolina on July 30.

The July 31- August 2 weekend of teachings with don Mariano at The Mountain in Highlands, NC offers a deeper immersion in the rich ceremonial and healing practices of the Q'ero paqos. The Q'eros of the remote Andes are medicine carriers of a wisdom tradition born during an era long ago, before the Inca empire rose and fell, which continues to thrive today.

Space is limited - Thank you for registering in advance.

For information and a registration package online, go to NativeVoicesSouth.blogspot.com
Call Anita (404-373-1219) or Sam (678-476-1284) for more information.

Native Voices, 2107 N Decatur Rd., #263, Decatur GA 30033
Visit online for complete information at NativeVoicesSouth.blogspot.com
Or write to us at: NativeVoicesSouth@gmail.com